The Centenary College of Louisiana

Centenary College has a long and creditable history, of which it is justly proud, and prospects which inspire its friends with hopefulness. Its graduates have been men of honor who have honored Centenary by their records and achievements. Its one aim is the development of well-rounded character, the making of men worthy to take part in the serious business of life. Under the presidency of Dr. Felix R. Hill, the College has enjoyed a gratifying measure of progress and prosperity, and the vigorous young President now in charge, Dr. Robt. H. Wynn, is expected to carry further the standard of educational success for Old Centenary. As an institution for Christian Education, with high ideals, holy purposes, manned by strong types of character, it makes its appeal to the public for patronage.

We now look forward to a great enlargement of the work and scope of the college, especially in view of the promise of increased equipment, additional buildings, and the plans now being matured by the Louisiana Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, for the correlation of the educational institutions under its control and the inauguration of a campaign for the raising of an endowment.

Centenary College, though owned and fostered by the Methodists, will give welcome to students of all denominations, within its walls.

In the city of Shreveport there are many churches, and there are pastors of piety and ability. These excellent men visit the College and are known by the faculty and students. It is expected and required that the students attend the ministry of the Word and they are also urged to attend Sunday School.

Co-Education.

We do not unduly stress or urge the policy of co-education at Centenary. Yet as was the case in past years, young ladies are admitted to all the advantages of the Preparatory and College Department. Board can be obtained near the College at a very reasonable rate.

Curriculum.

We call special attention to the curriculum, which at some length is published in this catalogue. We claim a high standard and profess to be fully in line with the best schools of the country. It is our purpose to maintain a thorough course of study. Students who desire to do so, can receive good training, and can master the studies necessary for academic degrees here, as well as in any other college in the land.

Discipline.

There are not a great many rules in this institution; indeed we look with disfavor upon what is called "red tape." The students are placed largely upon their honor, yet some rules are necessary, and these must be obeyed. Wholesome discipline must be maintained. Students are expected to be gentlemen. If one breaks or disregards the rules, or does things which are unbecoming to a gentleman, he soon learns that there is no place for him among us. Students who reside in the dormitories are not permitted to leave the College grounds, day or night, without permission. We believe that the moral influences are as good in Shreveport as in any other city in the South.

Dining Hall and Dormitories.

The dining hall and dormitories are under the College management, assisted by a faithful and efficient matron. Several members of the faculty occupy rooms, and board with the student body, thereby insuring good order, and also proper attention to the health and comfort to the entire college family. The sleeping rooms are supplied with heavy furniture. Each room contains two single iron beds with springs and mattresses, also tables, chairs, a mirror, a washstand, etc. Each student must furnish his own pillows, bed clothing and towels. In every room there is a spacious wardrobe with drawers and shelves. The dormitories are well screened, steam heated and gas lighted. The table is well served in a large and spacious dining hall, and is supplied with an abundance of wholesome and nourishing food.

Library.

We felicitate ourselves on our excellent library, and its arrangements. There are more than four thousand catalogued books and many that have not been catalogued. A good supply of current magazines is regularly provided, and several daily papers are placed at the disposal of the students.

Many improvements have been introduced this year in the library. Needed repairs have been made at considerable expense. The large room is open daily to the students at stated hours.

This library is a government depository. Government publications are sent here, and are kept open to the public, subject to the library regulations.

Contemplated Improvements.

The College Laboratory will be much enlarged and better equipped at the beginning of the fall term. There will be special attention to better preparation for the study of Chemistry and Physics.

Astronomy will be a prominent department of study, and we have the assurance that before January, 1914, a good telescope will be added to the equipment.

We greatly need another building for our regular class and school work. It is our aim, if possible, within the next year, to change the present spacious structure into a great dormitory—a college home for the faculty and students. This will enable us to accommodate nearly twice the number of students who are now with us. The new building, joined conveniently to the old, will supply the great need for administrative and class work of the school. The Board of Trustees is already giving earnest consideration to the much-needed improvements and enlargements.

Medals and Prizes.

The "Hutchinson Medal" is given for the best declamation.

The "Alumni Medal" is given for the best oration.

A Scholarship will be awarded to the student making the best average in the College Department, provided the grade is not less than 96.

A Scholarship will be given to the student making the highest average in the Preparatory Department under the same condition.

The Alumni Association.

The Alumni Association of Centenary College has a noble and historic record. The annual meeting of the Association is held each year during commencement at the College. A banquet is supplied, addresses are made, and it is a time of cheer and good comradeship. The officers now in charge are: A. S. Lutz, President; J. S. Johnston, Secretary; P. M. Elston, Treasurer.

Wiley Memorial.

At the meeting of the Alumni in June, 1910, a handsome sum of money, which had been accumulating for years, was appropriated to the enlargement and improvements of the house and grounds, furnished by the Board of Trustees, as a home for the President of the school. This neat and comfortable house has been named "The Wiley Memorial," in honor of Professor Geo. H. Wiley, whose life and services were for so many years devoted to Centenary College. The President and his family are now comfortably domiciled in "Wiley Memorial."

Music.

Mrs. Rebekah Ellison-Johnston will train the Centenary College Glee Club. Mrs. Johnston is a voice specialist of reputation. The method of instruction overcomes throat-trouble—adheres to the foremost European authorities. Foundation work is given by traditional oral technics. Piano and string instruments will also be taught. Her charges will be reasonable. She will also give instruction in principles of Bodily Expression; Bible and Hymn Reading; extemporaneous Speaking; Story Telling and Repertoire. The charge for class-work will be One Dollar and a Half per month.

Expression,

Student Organizations

Athletic Association.

We favor well-regulated athletics. The Association has a prominent place in the school life and activity. The organization is composed of all those who are interested in baseball, football, track-team work, etc. All students are invited to join the Association, and a small fee is charge for membership in order to provide partly for the necessary expenses. The College has one of the best athletic parks in the South devoted entirely to college athletics.

The Literary Societies.

The two famous literary societies of Centenary College, "The Franklin Institute," and "The Union Literary Society," are well organized and are doing excellent work. Both societies are trying to maintain the prestige of former days. Essays, orations, debates and parliamentary drills engage the attention of the members. Each student is invited to join one or the other of these societies, and he misses a great opportunity if he does not join. The faculty heartily endorses the work of the societies and encourages each student to join one of them. The society work is counted an important part of a college course.

The Young Men's Christian Association.

The religious forces of the school are organized in the Young Men's Christian Association. Regular religious exercises are held and a series of protracted services is conducted under the auspices of the Association. Special effort is always made to bring the students under these wholesome influences and the faculty urges the students to affiliate themselves with this Association.

Courses and Degrees

Required and Elective Work.

The work outlined by the College is arranged so that it covers the same ground in undergraduate work as the best institutions in the country. The studies of the first two years are definitely mapped out, and they form a basis for the work which comes in the third and fourth years. Most of the studies in the Junior and Senior years are elective, so that the student may select any branch in the curriculum, which he may desire, to round out his course.

Amount of Work.

Each student is required to complete three schools. This will fit him for carrying on his studies along special lines in graduate work, and will still allow him the privilege of liberal election.

The minimum amount of work is thirteen hours per week. For special reasons, a student may be allowed to take less than this minimum amount. He is then designated as a "special," and is not eligible to the athletic, the prize, or the scholarship contests. No student is allowed to take more than sixteen hours per week, except by permission of the Committee on Instruction.

Two hours of laboratory work are counted as the equivalent of one hour of recitation or lecture work.

The Bachelor's Degree.

Centenary College confers two baccalaureate degrees: Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Science. When a student has completed one of the courses as prescribed below and has fulfilled all of the requirements, he is eligible to the Bachelor's degree. A minimum residence period of one year is required before any degree is granted.

The Master's Degree.

The degree of Master of Arts, or Master of Science, is conferred under the following conditions: The candidate must hold the corresponding baccalaureate degree from this or some other college of equal rank. he must have pursued, in residence for a period of one year, a course of advanced work, outlined by the committee on Degrees and approved by the Faculty. Four courses of three hours per week, in three schools of college instruction must be selected. Under-graduate work may be chosen, provided, that it is not lower than the Junior year, and provided that the instructor in charge of the department, shall require additional original work of the student who is taking this work, as a graduate study. The candidate must show his worthiness of this degree by making a grade of not less than 80 in each subject, and by the preparation of a wholly or partly original thesis written under the direction of a professor in whose department he is pursuing his graduate studies.

*A year each in Chemistry and Zoology is required of all candidates for the Bachelor of Arts degree.

This requirement is met by a year's work in any one language, Ancient or Modern.

A year each in Chemistry, Zoology and Physics is required of all candidates for the Bachelor of Science degree.

*Latin or French may be selected in the Freshman and Sophomore years in the Scientific Course.

Requirements for Admission into the Freshman Class

All students should be present on the opening day, in order that they may matriculate, register and be classified promptly. No one will be allowed to attend class until he has been classified, and an entrance card has been secured.

Young men and young women are admitted under the same conditions, are subject to the same rules, and are eligible to all the degrees of the institution.

Candidates for admission to the College must pass satisfactory examinations, or produce certificates of proficiency in English, Mathematics, History, Science and two foreign languages, amounting in all to fifteen units. A "unit" denotes the amount of work in one subject equal to daily recitations during one year.

REQUIREMENTS IN ENGLISH AS ADOPTED BY THE NATIONAL CONFERENCE—3 UNITS.

READING AND PRACTICE.

A certain number of books will be recommended for reading, ten of which, selected as prescribed below, are to be offered for examination. The form of examination will usually be the writing of a paragraph or two on each of several topics, to be chosen by the candidate from a considerable number—perhaps ten or fifteen—set before him in the examination papers. The treatment of these topics is designed to test the candidate's power for clear and accurate expression, and will call for only a general knowledge of the substance of the books. In every case knowledge of the book will be regarded as less important than the ability to write good English. In place of a part or the whole of this test, the candidate may present an exercise book, properly certified to by his instructor, containing compositions or other written work done in connection with the reading of the books. In preparation for this part of the requirement, it is important that the candidate shall have been instructed in the fundamental principles of rhetoric.

With a view to large freedom of choice, the books provided for reading are arranged in the following groups, from which at least ten units* are to be selected, two from each group:

Group I.

The Old Testament, comprising at least the chief narrative episodes in Genesis, Exodus, Joshua, Judges, Samuel, Kings, and Daniel, together with the books of Ruth and Esther; the Odyssey, with the omission, if desired, of Books I, II, III, IV, V, XV, XVI, XVII; the Iliad, with the omission, if desired, of Books XI, XIII, XIV, XV, XVII, XXI; Vergil's Aeneid. The Odyssey, Iliad, and Aeneid should be read in English translations of recognized literary excellence.

*Each unit is set off by semicolons.

For any unit of this group a unit from any other group may be substituted.

Group II.

Shakespeare's Merchant of Venice, Midsummer Night's Dream, As You Like It, Twelfth Night, Henry the Fifth, Julius Caesar.

Group III.

Defoe's Robinson Crusoe, Part I; Goldsmith's Vicar of Wakefield; either Scott's Ivanhoe, or Quentin Durward; Hawthorne's House of the Seven Gables; either Dickens's David Copperfield, or Tale of Two Cities; Thackeray's Henry Esmond; Mrs. Gaskell's Cranford; George Eliot's Silas Marner; Stevenson's Treasure Island.

Group IV.

Bunyan's Pilgrim's Progress, Part I; the Sir Roger de Coverley Papers in the Spectator; Franklin's Autobiography (condensed); Irving's Sketch Book; Macaulay's Essays on Lord Clive and Warren Hastings; Thackeray's English Humorists; Selections from Lincoln, including at least the two Inaugurals, the Speeches in Independence Hall and at Gettysburg, the Last Public Address, and Letter to Horace Greeley, along with a brief memoir or estimate; Parkman's Oregon Trail; either Thoreau's Walden, or Huxley's Autobiography and selections from Lay Sermons, including the addresses on Improving Natural Knowledge, A Liberal Education, and A Piece of Chalk; Stevenson's Inland Voyage and Travels with a Donkey.

Group V.

Palgrave's Golden Treasury (First Series, Books II and III, with especial attention to Dryden, Collins, Gray, Cowper, and Burns; Gray's Elegy in a Country Churchyard and Goldsmith's Deserted Village; Coleridge's Ancient Mariner and Lowell's Visions of Sir Launfal; Scott's Lady of the Lake; Byron's Childe Harold, Canto IV, and The Prisoner of Chillon; Palgrave's Golden Treasury (First Series), Book IV, with especial attention to Wordsworth, Keats, and Shelley; Poe's Raven, Longfellow's Courtship of Miles Standish and Whittier's Snow-Bound; Macaulay's Lays of Ancient Rome and Arnold's Sohrab and Rustum; Tennyson's Gareth and Lynette, Lancelot and Elaine, and The Passing of Arthur; Browning's Cavalier Tunes, The Lost Leader, How They Brought the Good News from Ghent to Aix, Home Thoughts from Abroad, Home Thoughts from the Sea, Incident of the French Camp, Herve Riel, Pheidippides, My Last Duchess, Up at a Villa—Down in the City.

STUDY, AND PRACTICE.

This part of the examination presupposes the thorough study of each of the works named below. The examination will be upon subject-matter, form, and structure. In addition, the candidate may be required to answer questions involving the essentials of English grammar, and questions on the leading facts in those periods of English literary history to which the prescribed works belong.

The books set for this part of the examination for 1913 will be:

Shakespeare's Macbeth; Milton's L'Allegro, Il Penseroso, and Comus; either Burke's Speech on Conciliation with America, or both Washington's Farewell Address and Webster's First Bunker Hill Oration; either Macaulay's Life of Johnson or Carlyle's Essay on Burns.

MATHEMATICS—THREE UNITS.

This examination will include Algebra, Complete; and Plane and Solid Geometry.

HISTORY—ONE UNIT.

Ancient, English or United States History may be offered for this examination.

SCIENCE—ONE UNIT.

A course in Physics, Chemistry or Biology is required.

Chemistry.

- Course I. General Inorganic Chemistry. Lectures and recitations on the fundamental principles of chemistry; laws of chemical combination; atomic and molecular theories; a study of the occurrence, preparations, and properties of the elements and their compounds; an introductory to Organic Chemistry. Laboratory work will continue throughout the year. Prerequisite, Elementary Chemistry.
 Text-Book: Introductory to Study of Chemistry, Remsen; Chemical Experiments, Remsen.....3 hours.
- Course IIa. Qualitative Analysis. The reactions of various reagents with the elementary and compound radicals; separation of the metals; separation of the acid-radicals; systematic analysis of salts and minerals. Mainly laboratory work.
 Elective 3 hours.
- Course IIb. Quantitative Analysis. Chiefly laboratory practice in Gravimetric and Volumetric methods.....3 hours

- Course III. Organic Chemistry. A study of the carbon compounds. Lectures and recitations. Laboratory work includes the preparation of inorganic and organic compounds. Open only to students who have had, or are taking, Chemistry II. Elective 3 hours
Text-Book: Organic Chemistry, Remsen.

Physics.

- Course I. General Physics. Lectures and recitations. A study of Balanced Forces, Fluid Pressure of Matter, Motion, Energy, Magnetism, Electricity, Sound, and Light. A part of this course will be devoted to numerical exercises applying the principles of Physics to the common problems of life. Laboratory work.....3 hours
Perequisite, Elementary Physics and Geometry.
Text-Book: Text-Book in Physics, Wentworth and Hill.
- Course II. Advanced Physics. An advanced course in the theory and application of Physics. Recitations 2 hours, laboratory work 2 hours. Elective.
Perequisite, Physics I and Trigonometry.
Text-Book: Text-Book of General Physics, Ames; Manual of Experiments in Physics, Ames and Bliss.

Biology.

- Course Ia. General Zoology. A careful study of the morphology, physiology, and relation to environment of animals. Recitations and laboratory work.
Text-Book: Text-Book in General Zoology, Linville and Kelly. Elective 3 hours
- Course Ib. General Botany. Outline of classification, structure, physiology, development and ecology of plants. Recitations and laboratory work. With course Ia. this forms a course in General Biology.
Text-Books: Principles of Botany, Bergen and Davis; Laboratory and Field Manual of Botany, Bergen and Davis.
- Course II. Special Morphology of the Thallophytes. A detail study in the morphology and cytology of the thallophytes. Perequisite, Biology 1.
Text and Reference Books: Plant Morphology, Caldwell; Text-book of Botany, Coulter, Barnes, and Cowles; University Text Laboratory Manual, Campbell.
Elective 3 hours
- Course IIIa. Invertebrate Zoology. A special study of the external and internal structure and physiology of the invertebrates. Perequisite, Biology 1.

Text and Reference Books: Invertebrate Zoology, Drew;
A course in Invertebrate Zoology, Pratt.

Elective 3 hours

Course IIIb.

Vertebrate Zoology. A study of the representative classes of the vertebrates, such as the perch, the frog, the turtle, the pigeon and the cat. Prerequisite, Biology 1. Text and Reference Books: Biology of the Frog, Holmes; Herriek's Manual of Zoology; a course in Vertebrate Zoology, Pratt; General Zoology, Linville and Kelly.

Elective 3 hours

Courses II and III in this department will not be offered in the same year.

Geology.

Course I.

Dynamical, Structural, Physiographical and Historical Geology. The collection of rocks, minerals, and fossils in the Museum are used for illustrative purposes. Recitations and field work.

Text-Book: LeConte's Elements of Geology.

Elective 3 hours

Physiology.

Course I.

General Physiology, Hygiene and Sanitation. A brief course in Anatomy and Histology followed by a study of general health problems, with special reference to the cause and prevention of infectious diseases. Recitations and Laboratory work.

Text-Book: The Human Mechanism, Hough and Sedgwick. Elective 3 hours

LATIN.

PROFESSOR ROUSE.

Course I.

Preparatory Department

Centenary College maintains a first-class Preparatory Department, which fits the students for entrance into the Freshman class and gives them as good a foundation for college work as any preparatory school in the country.

The students in this department mingle with the upper classmen, and are in the same societies, athletic contests, religious exercises, and dormitories with them. Thus they feel the influence of the older and more experienced college men and are benefited by their association with them.

Discipline.

The Preparatory Department is under the control of the same Faculty and Board of Trustees as the College. As a rule, the students of this department are younger than those in the College, and therefore must be kept under stricter discipline. Only one rule is laid down by the College, and that is: Conduct yourself as a gentleman. Those who do not obey this rule will not have a place among us.

Prizes.

To the student attaining the highest average grade in this department will be given a free scholarship for the ensuing year, provided a grade of 95 is made. This will be worth fifty dollars to the student who wins it. It is not transferable.

The Declamation Prizes are open to Preparatory as well as College students.

To Parents.

We urge that parents have their children to report promptly on the opening day. This will facilitate our work and will help the student to get in line with his work. We also ask that the student be allowed to remain in school until the very last day of the session. It is very discouraging to both the Faculty and the student to have the work broken off just about the close of the year. It also causes the loss of a year's TIME, WORK and MONEY.

Fees.

The fees in this department are the same as those in the College. No student will be allowed to attend classes until he has matriculated and has secured an entrance card. The entrance card is a "certificate of matriculation."

School Departments

The purpose of Centenary College is to compass everything possible in academic learning which is required in first grade colleges. The Preparatory Department is conducted with direct reference to entrance into the College, and the work is about the same as covered by the first grade high schools.

There may be young students, and some older ones, who want to attend Centenary—and with good reason—who have not advanced far enough to enter the preparatory department. For these, if they have advanced as far as the seventh grade, there will be proper instruction to fit them for the preparatory department at Centenary. First year Latin, English Grammar, History, Arithmetic, Geography and Spelling will be taught by competent instructors.

For these students there will be special fees: Matriculation and Contingent fees, $7.00; Tuition for the year, $40.00.

This department will not be in direct connection with the Preparatory and College Departments, but will be under the general supervision of the President and the Faculty of the College. Stricter discipline may be used to control those in this department, than that used in the higher departments.

Expenses

Board may be had in the College Dormitory at Fifteen Dollars, payable MONTHLY IN ADVANCE. This amount covers the cost for both board and room.

INTENDING STUDENTS SHOULD ENGAGE ROOMS AT ONCE FOR THE COMING SESSION, WHICH OPENS SEPTEMBER 18.

PREPARATORY AND COLLEGE DEPARTMENTS.

Tuition for School Year.....	$50.00
Matriculation	5.00
Library Fee.....	1.00
Contingent Fee.....	3.00
Chemistry Fee for Year.....	5.00

All fees must be paid in advance. No student will be allowed to meet classes until he has settled with the Treasurer, and has secured an entrance card.

Only those who take Chemistry are required to pay the Chemistry fee.
